

Judges

When people tell me what to do,
And what to be,
And what to say,

And how to act,
And how to dress,
And how to live my every day,

I always turn to them and say—
Though I needn't even bother—
God alone will be my Judge;
I answer to no other.